Aloha Air Conditioning announces new sponsorship and offers donated marketing through their new truck wrap.

Davie, FL 5.20.14– Aloha Air Conditioning proudly announces their sponsorship and support of United Cerebral Palsy of South Florida (UCP). To show their support, as well as assist in marketing the organization, Aloha Air Conditioning has donated marketing to the organization; their newest truck wrap displays the UCP logo as well as notes the company’s sponsorship.

Aloha Air Conditioning’s service area extends from Palm Beach County to the Florida Keys. By donating marketing to United Cerebral Palsy of South Florida via their truck wrap, the company aims to extend awareness of the organization throughout the communities Aloha Air Conditioning serves each day. In the past, Aloha Air Conditioning has also used their truck wraps as a unique way to show their support and sponsorship of other charitable organizations, such as St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital and Susan G Komen.

“Our team proudly supports United Cerebral Palsy of South Florida,” said Jim Barry, owner of Aloha Air Conditioning. “We are pleased to use our new truck wrap as a means to assist the organization in spreading awareness and gaining support for the valuable work they do in our community.”
